PEEP HOLE at door of 7796 Mission street, Colma, is pointed out by Broadmoor Police Chief Ray Savage as spot where look-out checked patrons visiting alleged Chinese gambling operation there Saturday night. Note below where door knob has been removed and lock installed. Broadmoor police, in conjunction with district attorney's office, arrested six men on gambling charges, after releasing patrons of the establishment.

"DEFINITELY" OPEN,

FOR BROADMOOR
INCORPORATION

Boundaries of the Broadmoor-Colma area proposed for incorporation as a sixth class city were being drawn up this week for submission to the county boundary commission.

Thomas Noonan of Sterling Park, head of the movement to make the unincorporated area a city, was away on vacation and could not be contacted this week, but Victor Nobles, committeeman for the move, said maps of the proposed boundaries were nearly completed.

Next step will be forwarding the maps to the boundary commission. Upon approval, the incorporation backers must then obtain signatures of 25 per cent of the property owners within the area. They must represent 25 per cent of the assessed valuation.

Once the necessary signatures are acquired on the petition, it is

PAULA WINTERS, former call girl and one-time Daly City belle, has lost her man.

JOSEPH LO PRESTI, 42-year-old SF contractor, was awarded annulment from her last week on grounds she would not forego her craving for narcotics, as she had promised.

The 21-year-old Paula, whose former name was SHIRLEY GRIMES, made sensational copy last year in the police investigation of MABEL MALOTTE'S brothel operation.

Lo Presti said in brief testimony before the judge that he would not have married Paula had he known she was unwilling or unable to give up her dope habit.

North San Mateo County Sanitation district received a bill recently for work done by former engineer ROBERT KLASSEN in 1951. If they can take just as long in paying it it won't be due until 1959.

6 Chinese
Nabbed In
Colma Raid*BROADMOOR COPS
IN 6-HOUR WATCH

In real gang-busters fashion, Broadmoor police department Sunday morning swooped down on a Chinese gambling operation in Colma before the money even had a chance to get wrinkled.

After a six-hour stakeout in which they observed jitney-type limousines pour some 111 Chinese into a wooden shack at 7796 Mission street, the police invaded the premises, arresting six orientals, confiscating $884.55 in cash and a wide assortment of gambling paraphanelia.

The 100 plus patrons of the establishment, which was evidently making its grand opening on the Peninsula, were also given stern warning by District Attorney Keith Sorenson in a ten-minute speech that, "Contrary to anything you may have heard, we will not tolerate gambling in San Mateo county."

Movement Predicted

The exodus of the Chinese gambling concessions from San Francisco was predicted early this year when that city cracked down on the illegal activity.

Arrested in the roundup were: Harry Chew, 41, 615 Jackson, described by Chief Ray Savage as manager of the enterprise; Gue Hong, 46, 10 Beckett, identified as the lookout posted at the door; and four alleged dealers, Sammie J. Lee, 43, 701 Jackson; William Wang, 31, 725 Sacramento; Yee Yow Jing, 40, 858 Washington; and Nee Wong Foon, 47, 33 Waverly street. All are San Francisco addresses.

All were charged with violating county and state gambling laws. Taken for evidence was the following: Four bags containing the $884.55 cash; three cigar boxes containing chips and dominoes; an abacus board; three more cardboard boxes containing miscellaneous items.

WESTMOOR WATER
SOURCE DEBATED
BY BOARD, CITY

Jefferson High School district board of trustees have undertaken a study to determine if installation of their own water system at Westmoor school would be cheaper than purchasing water from Daly City.

Meeting with City Manager Stites Wednesday night, board members discussed quantity of water needed for the new school, estimating 200,000 gallons a day would be required during summer months.

Stites said the city might be able to reduce rates for the school to approximate cost, but made it clear that he would have to consult the council first.

The manager said one thing the board must consider in their decision is fire protection. He pointed out that size and capacity of mains is governed by fire protection needs, and not by domestic use, explaining that this was a major influence on cost of installation. "If they're going to furnish their own water supply, they can't expect the city to offer water for fire protection free. We can't afford to do it without some charge."

"It's hard to see how they can produce water as cheaply as the city when they're operating on such a small scale," the manager observed.

The board said they would contact the city after making their decision.

First and second grade children in the Jefferson elementary school district and local parochial schools are eligible for Salk vaccine to be administered Saturday morning at Woodrow Wilson school.

San Mateo county Department of Public Health and Welfare and the Medical Society, who are sponsoring the administration, announce that only children who have signed consent forms will be inoculated.

Following is the schedule of times and schools:

8 to 9 p.m., Woodrow Wilson school, General Pershing school, Benjamin Franklin school; 9 to 10 a.m., 87th Street school, Olympia school, Garden Village school, Jefferson school.

10 to 11 a.m., Westlake school, Holy Angels Parochial school, Colma school, Our Lady of Perpetual Help Parochial school; 11 to 12 noon, Brisbane school, Bayshore school, Midway Village school.

The schedules for the second infection will be announced when sufficient vaccine is received for this purpose.

Westlake Library
Annex Established

Daly City library commission announced at their meeting Wednesday that they have acquired a room at Westlake school to be used as a temporary branch library.

This marks the first step toward establishing of a Westlake library annex, a project launched jointly last December by the commission and Westlake PTA.

Wayne Carr, commission president, said the one room would be open two days a week for ten hours each day. A summer story hour will be conducted, under supervision of Librarian Lorraine Rolland, he said.

In other business Wednesday, commission set qualifications for new position of assistant librarian. Salary range recommended was $285 to $341. Applicants must have four years of college plus graduation from an accredited library school or its equivalent.

The commission voted to restore picture of John Daly, namesake of Daly City, for hanging in the library.

SF TO OPPOSE
PERKINS BUS
AT PUC HEARING

The local transportation situation, becoming increasingly complex each day, saw these developments taking place this week:

1. City Manager Howard Stites met with jitney owners yesterday, but came to a stalemate on the question of fares and routes.

2. San Francisco public utilities manager James Turner was quoted as saying his group would fight Burt Perkins Westmoor Transit Lines application for a state public utilities commission permit to operate a commuter bus from Broadmoor to West Portal, doing a turnaround on a previous statement by a San Francisco Municipal Railway official to the effect that they would welcome Perkins line.

3. Public hearing on Perkins application was set for June 28, then "temporarily removed" from the calendar yesterday.

Camp Mattrup Girl Scout camp in Colma, under investigation for possible plague infection, has been cleared by the county health department, THE RECORD learned today.

Eugene M. Howell, public health engineer, in a letter to Mrs. Noble E. Larson, Daly City Girl Scout day camp chairman, said investigation of 11 mice trapped at the camp site last month by state department of public health, bureau of vector control, showed negative results for ectoparasites carrying with plague infection.

"Therefore," Howell continued, "In view of the survey conducted last year and trapping held this year department will no longer object to use of this site for a Girl Scout day camp."

Howell advised, however, that it would be necessary to improve the water system at the camp, and the sewage disposal installation.

He said the county health department would be glad to meet with Scout representatives to make recommendations on the improvements.

Mrs. Larson said it was doubtful that the camp, located northeast of Colma at the end of Hoffman street, could be set up in time for extensive use this summer, but indicated Girl Scouts would be able to make some use of the site.

Mrs. Larson said publicity in THE RECORD was a deciding factor in the speedy action by the county in clearing the site, which had been closed as a potential plague threat.

"Publicity in your paper really helped," the Scout official said. "The RECORD cleared the air and picture space to the problem, as well as editorial comment."

Jefferson High Names
8 Honor Graduates

As the graduation exercises to be held in the Jefferson Union High school gymnasium Thursday night, honors will be presented by John Mongan, vice principal, to those students in the class who have earned recognition.

Seven students in the class have maintained the high average necessary to receive life membership in the California Scholarship Federation. These students are Anne Ballard, Len DeMartini, Frances Evans, Floyd Kvamme, Roger Saunders, Marcia Smith and Mary Waltz.

Frances Evans, valedictorian, will receive a scholarship from the University of California, and Roger Saunders will be presented one from the Pasadena college.

Other honors to be presented will be the Bausch and Lomb Science Award, which will go to Carl Thomas, the outstanding science student in the class, and a year's subscription to the Reader's Digest, which will be given to the valedictorian, Frances Evans.

Despite Trustee Henry Kraus' suggestion to grant a total three per cent blanket increase to all teachers in the Jefferson Elementary School district, teachers held out at Wednesday night's school board meeting for the elimination of the "Master barrier."

Another meeting on the disputed salary schedule is planned for Tuesday night after the teachers' salary committee compiles cost statistics on three proposed plans.

The board adopted a salary schedule May 11 over protests by the teachers who insisted that their main purpose in asking for a revised schedule was to substitute units in graduate work for the Masters degree now required for pay boosts.

The board's adopted salary schedule calls for approximately a one per cent blanket increase, amounting to a total of $6000 per year.

Includes 16 Teachers

Teachers' salary proposal would have added pay by $56,000, which figure includes the hiring of 16 additional teachers.

In beginning the discussion Wednesday night, Mrs. Helen Cheatham, chairman of the board, told the assembled teachers, "We just aren't able to flush out the Masters at this time."

At this point, James Hough, chairman of the teachers' salary committee, reaffirmed the teachers' position on the Masters degree.

"It was not our original intention to ask for a raise," Hough insisted, "but rather to eliminate the Masters barrier."

Here, Kraus interjected the statement, "Maybe you didn't want a raise, but the result is an additional $56,000 per year."

Hough replied that this was true, but that the teachers' recommendation, unlike the board's $6000 figure, took into account the hiring of 16 additional teachers.

Several teachers rose to protest the MA. Most arguments centered around the importance of a well-rounded education.

"Well-Rounded"

"We want a well-rounded education for the classroom teacher," one teacher told the board. "The Masters is there for specialists and administrators."

The teachers' recommended proposal included six education steps: B.A. or less, B.A. plus 15 units, B.A. plus 30 units, B.A. plus 45 units, and B.A. plus 60 units.

In the schedule passed by the board, a Master's degree is required in the last three classifications. A Masters is roughly equivalent to 30 units of graduate work.

The three proposals to be discussed at Tuesday's meeting are:

1. Addition of "or M.A." in the fourth classification of the teachers' proposal and substitution of

Hillside Street Job Is Urged

In answer to recent concerted citizen appeal, the city council Monday night ordered Manager Howard Stites to survey the city's streets and establish a priority list.

Nearly every week some resident has appeared to inquire about resurfacing Hillside boulevard, particularly the section just off Mission street intersection.

City Engineer Edwin Smith said there would be a total of $105,000 gas tax money available for street work in the next fiscal year.

He estimated cost of re-surfacing southern portion of Hillside would run about $15,000. "There's no point to re-surfacing beyond Gambetta because it will be torn up for the storm drain project," he pointed out.

"The reason Hillside isn't completed," Mayor Joseph Verducci revealed, "is that we were waiting to see if the county would participate financially on the work. Apparently they're not."

He said a street survey would probably show Hillside with top priority.

Brunswick Wind-Up Worth More Than Maps, Council Says

Clearing up of the Brunswick extension litigation takes precedent over acquisition of a few old city maps, the council decreed Monday night.

City Attorney Frank Blum informed the council that former city engineer Robert Klassen has agreed to sign a release with city of Daly City in the amount of $2100 for fees owed him while working on the Brunswick extension. He had earlier filed claim for $6700.

Blum said he was anxious to have the city and Klassen enter the release, thus resolving the lengthy Brunswick litigation.

Only drawback, he pointed out, was that Klassen refused to turn over city map tracings which he drew up while engineer here.

After present city engineer Edwin Smith declared, "Two thirds of the Klassen stuff isn't worth a thing," Mayor Joseph Verducci said, "Let's get this thing out of the way."

The council concurred, ordering Blum to enter the release with Klassen. Smith said county maps would probably prove adequate if there were ever a dispute over streets or boundaries.

Phones Busy As Quake Jolts Area Wednesday

Local police department and THE RECORD office were besieged with telephone calls Wednesday on the heels of an earthquake that gave the area a severe shake at 9:28 a.m.

More than 30 calls were received from points throughout the city, and one woman reported the jolt had knocked her phone out of order.

The quake had a small magnitude of 2 on the Richter scale of 10.

Many citizens described the jolt as more of an explosion than a quake.

Nab Six Chinese In Colma Raid

laneous gaming devices; four felt-covered tables; a telephone; account sheets, tabs and markers.

NAMES THE GAMES
Savage said the games of chance being played were fan tan, pai gow, dominoes and surprisingly, a pinocchle session.

Broadmoor police got suspicious at 7 p.m. Saturday when the observed a pick-up truck unloading two fans, tables and various boxes at the apparently abandoned hotel.

Savage drove down to Redwood City to engage Sorenson for legal assistance. The district attorney took a look at the moving operations from a police vantage point on a hill east of Mission, and agreed with Savage's belief that it was not just a social club gathering.

The pair travelled back to Redwood City, where they spent two and a half hours tracking down a judge, and a stenographer in order to obtain a search warrant, now required by law under recent legislation.

Starting about 8:30 p.m., the chief said, the eight-passenger limousines began pulling in every 10 minutes and discharging a full load of customers.

IN FULL SWING
Savage said the operation appeared to be in full swing about 10 p.m., but police continued to keep surveillance on the place. At 11:45 p.m. Savage ordered all reserves and regular officers to report at the police station.

At 1:05 p.m. the chief, along with Commissioner Harry Brown, four regular and four reserve officers and the district attorney and his two aides drove their two cars into the driveway, dimming their lights as they approached the scene, which the jitney limousines had done, apparently as a password.

The officers bunched themselves at the side of the building, while Savage stood just to the left of the entrance. Hong, the alleged lookout, squinted through a one-inch peep-hole in the door but was unable to identify the chief and disdaining caution, opened the door.

Savage barged in, along with the contingent of officers in close pursuit. Reaching the hallway, the law enforcement group was blocked again by a partition blocking off the main room.

COPS POUR IN
Attempts to smash the wall partition proved futile, so Savage demanded "in the name of the law" that the entrance be opened.

Meanwhile, some of the officers scrambled through a side window which they had forced open.

Sorenson, leaping atop a table then admonished the group with his "no gambling in San Mateo county" lecture. At first none of the Chinese would admit to being a part of the management, Savage said, but finally four revealed that they were dealers.

They pointed out Chew as the man in charge. Hong was held as the lookout, and in addition to the gambling count, was charged with vagrancy, since he was not in the immediate gambling area and therefore might be released on the first count, according to the chief.

In addition to Savage, Sorenson, Brown and two district attorney men, those participating in Sunday's raid included: Sgt. Clint Pierson, Sgt. Al Nickas, George Shinay and A. McColl, all Broadmoor reserve officers, and Sgt. Gale Galusha, George Carleton, Merrill Baxley and Charles Manning, regular officers.

The six men arrested are scheduled to appear for preliminary hearing June 16 in municipal court.

FOR "WAREHOUSE"
Savage said the Mission street building, once a restaurant, is owned by A. Bortis, proprietor of the Lakeside Motel. Savage said Mrs. Bortis rented the place to "three young Chinese" on June 1.

They claimed they wanted the building for a warehouse. They made it clear that no one but them, not even the owner, should have access to the building.

According to Savage, the building was not used until two days prior to the raid, when a carpenter came in and set up the partition.

Today the "For Rent" sign was back in place at 7796 Mission street.

charges or a hearing.

"Every city employee in San Mateo county is subject to be summarily fired because you (Sorenson) for some reason see fit to write a letter to the authorities of that particular city," Fahey claimed.

Fahey declared that the "flimsy charges (against Johnstone) were couched in language of one who speaks out of both sides of his mouth at the same time."

The district attorney was asked to take the proper action requested in Fahey's letter.

Still Argue On Teacher Salaries

"M.A. plus 15" in the last classification.

"B.A. Plus 60"
It was first suggested by Hough that the last classification include "B.A. plus 60" but this was eliminated upon the suggestion of Teacher Eugene Grant.

2. B.A. or less, B.A. plus 24, B.A. plus 48, B.A. plus 60 or M.A. plus 15. This proposal would include a 2 1/2 percent added increase.

3. Substitution of "B.A. plus 72 or M.A. plus 15" in the last classification of the teachers' proposal.

The board had already decided to discuss the three above compromises when Kraus made his suggestion of a total three percent increase. The proposal was voted down by other board members: Mrs. Cheatham, Mrs. Katherine Mullen and Joe Lewkowicz. Trustee Michael Callan was absent.

Tuesday's meeting will be held at Woodrow Wilson school multipurpose room starting at 8 p.m.

In other business Wednesday night, the board:

1. Heard Superintendent H. Z. Weibel explain that state red tape was responsible for the slow construction of Jefferson elementary schools. Weibel's statement was made in answer to a question by Lee Lester, 114 Westdale avenue.

2. Approved a raise for non-certificated personnel.

3. Approved the formation of a PTA Civilian Defense committee.

SF To Oppose Perkins Bus At PUC Hearing

recommendations made last Wednesday by a citizens' transportation committee.

According to the city manager, jitney representatives agreed to all specifications set up by the committee, with the exception of fares and the route covering Westlake.

Stites and the committee maintain the jitneys should open their operation here with a 15-cent fare, while they insist on 20 cents. The council indicated Monday night that a 15-cent fare wasn't necessary.

Stites said, however, that "We ought to try the lower fare. After all, another company is proposing to take people all the way from Broadmoor to West Portal for 15 cents and the jitneys are providing only local service. They shouldn't charge more."

He added that the state PUC might force a 15-cent fare to begin with, "but it would be better if the city recommended it."

NO REGARD FOR NO. 76
On the route issue, Stites said the jitneys wanted to designate their own run, without regard to the Muni No. 76 route, subsidized by Doelger. "We don't want to destroy something we already have," Stites pointed out.

The manager said under the jitney proposal, their line and the No. 76 would conflict.

He said he would submit the jitney proposal to the council Monday night for their decision.

Meanwhile, James Turner, manager of SF public utilities, revealed through a story in a metropolitan newspaper that San Francisco would oppose Perkins request for PUC certificate to operate Westmoor Transit Lines between Broadmoor and West Portal.

CONFLICTING STATEMENT
This statement conflicted with the earlier stand taken by San Francisco officials. Vern Anderson, Municipal Railway executive, told THE RECORD he had "no comment" on Turner's remarks, other than, "I understand there will be some protest."

Perkins had believed earlier that San Francisco would back his line, but that Daly City would probably force the issue to a hearing.

He had hoped to be granted certificate to operate through ex parte proceedings—requiring no public hearing. In such cases, however, all parties involved must approve the application.

State public utilities commission records revealed that Monday the hearing on Perkins application was set for June 28, but on Tuesday there was a notation that the hearing had been "temporarily removed" from the calendar.

REVIEWS MEETING
At Monday's council meeting Stites reviewed the highlights of last Wednesday's transportation committee meeting. He said that as soon as specifications for the jitneys were in written form, the council should invite proposals for supplying the service required.

Stites said that in view of the fact that Perkins is seeking application to operate in Broadmoor, the jitneys should submit their application to the PUC as soon as possible.

Asked if the city would actively oppose Perkins application at the hearing, Stites said, "The council has decided that jitneys are the only answer to the transportation problem. If Perkins proposal does not conflict with jitneys, we should have no objections. I wouldn't want to see Perkins granted a certificate if it conflicted with the jitneys' chances of gaining a permit."

Perkins had said last week that if he gained permit, it was doubtful the PUC would approve the jitneys operating along the same route in Broadmoor since there would not be enough passenger traffic to warrant two lines.

The transportation topic will be resumed by the citizens group at a meeting next Wednesday at city hall, starting at 8 p.m.

HAROLD LANG, Broadway star and former Daly City resident, catches up on his hometown news through the files of THE RECORD while visiting the office for an interview. The versatile dancer, a Jefferson High school graduate, is now appearing in "Kiss Me, Kate" in San Francisco. He plans to take it easy this summer right here in Daly City at his mother's home, 14 Alp avenue.

DANCER HAROLD LANG SAYS HE'S HAPPY TO BE HOME

Local boy who made good, Harold Lang, thinks the best part of the "Kiss Me, Kate" tour is the chance it gives him to visit his hometown, Daly City.

The famous dancer dropped in to THE RECORD office Monday for an interview.

Lang's mother, Mrs. Della Lang, lives at 14 Alp avenue. The Lang family are direct descendants of the early California aristocratic Martinez family.

After "Kiss Me, Kate," closes on June 27, the entertainer plans to spend the summer "getting used to the country here again."

"I'm amazed at the tremendous growth of Daly City," he exclaimed.

Lang declared that he doesn't like New York, where he lives when not on tour.

"It's too much like being in a box," he explained.

Before the local dancer reached stardom, he trained at the San Francisco Ballet school but only enough, not until he had graduated from high school in 1938.

While at Jeff he worked on the rally committee and starred on the track team.

"Track is good training for a dancer," he declared.

However, at that time, Lang had no idea that he would enter the entertainment world.

"My brother, Al, was the musician in the family," the versatile dancer explained. Al Lang is now a music teacher in Gonzales.

When asked how he first became interested in dancing, Lang said that his decision was made after seeing the San Francisco Ballet company in the opera "Der Rosenkavalier."

From there, he went on tour with the Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo, and later toured with Ballet Theater.

His first appearance on Broadway in a musical comedy was in "Mr. Strauss Goes to Boston."

"I found that I much preferred roles that offered an opportunity for dramatic expression and not only dancing," Lang explained.

It was a wise decision. The versatile entertainer now dances, acts and sings in most of his roles. He named one of these roles as his favorite—Eddie Winkler in "Look, Ma, I'm Dancin'."

"I liked it the best because of the music, dancing and the story," Lang gave as his reason.

After starring in the original "Kiss Me, Kate," on Broadway, Lang went on tour with the New York City Ballet to London. From there, he went back to Broadway in "Make a Wish" and the hit revival of "Pal Joey," which later toured California.

When asked if he could name a role that he would most like to play, Lang answered "Hamlet."

"It's still only an idea, though," he added.

Lang's theatrical experience includes not only formal ballet and musical comedy, but nightclub and television appearances. Among the many television shows he has worked are Ed Sullivan's, Jackie Gleason's and Arthur Godfrey's shows. Recently he appeared on "Shower of Stars" with Ethel Merman.

His future plans include more television appearances and perhaps another tour in London in a year. At the present, however, Lang is concentrating on a well-earned rest here in Daly City.

DALY CITY COPS SEEK BEER-LOVING BURGLAR

Daly City Police are seeking a beer-drinking burglar wearing size 9½ shoes and pink and black argyle socks.

The description is gathered from clues left at a burglary at the home of Gene Jacobsen, 157 Peoria street Tuesday. Daughter Cecilia, 12, returned from school to find her parents' back bedroom completely ransacked.

Missing were a wedding ring, engagement ring, a man's sock filled with about 200 pennies, the black and pink argyles and four cans of Hamm's beer.

A clear footprint was found on the bed, directly under a window through which the burglar apparently entered the house.

No Lessons This Week For Saxophone Players

A Daly City music teacher reported the theft of his saxophone to police this week. Manuel P. De Leon, 6789 Mission street, told officers that his saxophone had been in his car which was parked in his garage driveway. De Leon estimated the loss at $127.88.

RECORD Article Gets Response; Hansons Say Still Need Pledges

Local eye bank officials, Mr. and Mrs. George Hanson, report numerous phone calls since the appearance of an article about their work in last week's RECORD.

The Hanson's home at 846 Bellevue avenue serves as the national Dawn Society eye bank through which persons may donate their eyes to be used after death in a cornea transplant operation. It is estimated that 200,000 persons could regain their sight through a transplant, and despite calls received this week, the Dawn Society is desperately in need of pledges.

For information, persons may call Mr. or Mrs. Hanson at JU. 5-8527.

An estimated 530,000 anglers caught a record total of 22,300 trout in California waters in 1953.

Citizens Comment On DC Name Change

SUGGESTS "NORTHGATE"

Joseph Toboni Jr., 1 Parkwood drive — "Change the name to Northgate."

Mrs. Patrick C. Heffernan, 40 Lynwood drive — "Change name to Westlake—Daly City is a corny name."

Mrs. Eugene J. Marty, 27 Fairmont drive — "I'd like it changed to Westlake. Although I realize it wouldn't set very well with the old timers."

Mrs. Henry A. Zander, 121 Park Plaza drive — "I think a change would be very nice. Daly City sounds so small-townish and Daly City is anything but a small town."

Mrs. Kathryn Wray, 20 Lynwood drive — "We have always disliked the present name and have often wondered why they named it that in the first place. . . it sounds so run-down and unattractive. I think either Westlake or a historical name like Vista Grande would be much better."

"CRINGED" AT NAME

"We always cringed at the name Daly City," said one Westlake woman who preferred to remain anonymous. "I like the name of Westlake."

Mrs. Ralph Black, 63 Lakemont drive — "I'd like Westlake much better. If a movement was started to change the name I'd go along. We think of cemeteries when we think of Daly City."

Mrs. Axel John Hart, 56 Eastgate drive — "We hate the name Daly City. We like Westlake but would rather be part of San Francisco. Daly City sounds so hickish and besides in the past it hasn't had too good a reputation."

Mrs. Leonard C. Hosford, 172 Ashland drive — "It seems it should be Westlake. After all, eventually this area will comprise the biggest part of the city. When you say you live in Daly City people stare at you as if it's a funny place to live. That's the only reason I don't like the name."

The ten Westlake residents who thought a change was out of order said:

PROUD OF NAME

Mrs. Joseph Toboni Jr., 1 Parkwood drive — "When we first moved to Daly City five years ago I was a little ashamed of the name but now I'm proud of it."

Mrs. Herbert Zelinsky Jr., 91 Eastgate drive — "I can't say without studying the situation, but if the change has been suggested just because of recent bad publicity, it would be silly to change. After all, a name is just face value. Daly City is easy to pronounce and understand."

Mrs. Frank R. Bonner Jr., 178 Crestwood drive — "I think Daly City is a fine name."

Mr. William F. McCarthy, 36 Palmdale avenue — "The name Daly City has been appropriate for a good many years. I don't see why they should change now. The name has been here a lot longer than this new construction."

Mrs. James C. Wyatt, 31 Lakemont drive — "I'm not in favor of any change."

Mrs. Ernest Bassler, 756 North Mayfair avenue — "We like the name Daly City and wouldn't want to change."

TOO BIG A PROJECT

Mrs. Daniel Begovich, 308 Northgate avenue — "It's too big a project to change a name after it has existed so long. I like Daly City the way it is."

Mrs. Charles Bomont, 21 Park Plaza drive — "I hadn't even thought about changing the name. Daly City never had any bad connotations for me."

Mrs. George Del Sarto, 70 Fairlawn avenue — "It seems kind of foolish to change the name after it's been that way for so many years. Let's leave well enough alone."

Mrs. Merton T. Jones, 185 Lake Vista avenue — "I'm satisfied with Daly City and never thought of changing the name. It's fine with me."

The five Westlake residents who would approve action either way said:

Mrs. D. H. Tonelli, 91 Windsor drive — "I would favor a change if the name were suitable but have no suggestions at present."

Mrs. Richard P. Stark, 34 Dorchester drive — "I haven't thought about it, but I guess it's all right with me if they keep the name Daly City."

Mrs. Martin Zernicke, 30 Terrace avenue — "I've never formed an opinion, but I guess the present name's all right."

Mrs. Peter Bertucelli, 85 Dorchester drive — "It doesn't matter to me. I wouldn't care either way."

Mrs. William Feeny, 20 Lynwood drive — "I haven't discussed it with anybody. The present name doesn't bother me."

BAD PUBLICITY

Residents from the old section of

Daly City who preferred a name change declared:

Mrs. O. L. Hesbit, 198 Los Olivos avenue — "I might be a good idea because of the bad publicity."

Mrs. W. T. Woodbury, 331 Miriam street — "I would favor a new name because of the recent bad publicity. I would, however, have to think of a specific one. There would be a lot of objection from the old timers."

Mrs. Edward Berardy, 363 San Diego avenue — "It looks like scribbling when you write Daly City. I don't like the sound either. Palmdale, Hillside or Hillsdale would be nicer. I'm very interested in a name change."

Mr. Douglas Fischer, 298 Los Banos avenue — "I think I'd like to see it changed to Vista Grande. The city's 'romantic past' has placed the present name in a bad light."

Mrs. E. Goldkuhl Sr., 214 Miriam street — "If we could call it Vista Grande I think it would be wonderful. It certainly is a grand view, and that's what Vista Grande means in Spanish."

DC SUPPORTERS

The 14 Daly City residents who supported the present name said:

Mrs. Lee Wolford, 215 Los Olivos avenue — "Daly City is a nice name. The name doesn't have anything to do with the crime. . . and you find crime in every town. Look at how much there is in San Francisco and it is named after a Saint. Mr. Daly must have been a very nice man to have the town named after him. Even when we lived in San Francisco before the depression we always wanted to move to Daly City and we liked it."

Mrs. Dale E. Conover, 80-C Westlake avenue — "I like the name Daly City because my husband's name is Dale and we feel we belong here."

NAME APPROPRIATE

Mrs. Harold L. Fields, 831 Brunswick street — "I like the name Daly City. I've lived here nine years and it just seems appropriate."

Mr. H. R. Woodward, 300-A Citrus avenue — "Under the circumstances I think it would be much better for the city to correct their bad habits rather than change the name, which would only be going from bad to worse."

Mrs. John M. Cronin, 334 Bellevue avenue — "I like the name Daly City as well as anything else."

Mrs. C. M. Yohn, 292 Hillside boulevard — "We've lived here 16 years and it would seem strange to have another name. There's bad publicity anywhere. It's up to the people here what they want to make of the town. . . not the name."

Mrs. Gus Foppiano, 374 Guttenberg — "There's no reason for it. People know the town as Daly City and it should stay that way."

WOULDN'T SEEM RIGHT

Mrs. Gene L. Godfrey, 138 Bellevue avenue — "Daly City is fine with me. I never thought of changing the name. It wouldn't seem right any other way."

Mrs. L. O. Hamlet, 181 Los Banos avenue — "I've never thought about it. I've always liked the name of Daly City. I wouldn't be interested in any change."

Mrs. Fred Ambrosio, 227 Hillcrest drive — "I think the name's all right."

Mr. Phillip Badran, 73 Vale street — "I'm content the way it is."

Mrs. Camille Boux Jr., 155 Hillcrest drive — "I like the name Daly City."

Mrs. Joseph L. Bocci, 62 West Cavour — "I think it's kind of silly to change the name. There's no sense to it. The city's name is Daly City. Keep it that way."

Mrs. Ernest L. Howard, 248 Wyandotte avenue — "My idea is to let it stay Daly City. I don't see any reason for a change. In fact I think there ought to be a greater Daly City, including Colma, Broadmore and Sterling Park."

Daly City residents who as yet had no definite opinion were:

Mrs. Rudolph B. Eberg, 175 East Vista avenue — "I've lived here eight years but have no feeling one way or another. I don't object to the name, but wouldn't mind if they changed it."

"DOESN'T MEAN MUCH"

Mrs. Arnold Ames, 131 Abbott avenue — "I'll follow along with whatever is suggested. The name doesn't mean too much. It's the people in a city that count."

Mrs. Nasli R. Bana, 45 Muirwood drive — "All of my life it's been Daly City, but if someone proposed a good name I might go along with it."

Mrs. William Belli, 97 Moltke street — "I'm satisfied with the way it is but if a good enough name was presented I might favor a change."

Mrs. Betty Youngberg, 1115 Brunswick street — "I think the name is all right. I have nothing against it but changing it wouldn't make any difference to me."

Mrs. Sandy Young, 238 Crocker avenue — "It wouldn't make any difference to me one way or the other. The town would still be the same, regardless of the name."

Overall, figures showed 17 of the 52 persons interviewed favoring a new name. Twenty four were against abandoning "Daly City," while 11 had formed no definite opinion.

Percentage-wise, this meant that

COP'S FIRING NOT SOLELY MANAGER'S DOING, MAYOR SAYS

"We don't want the feeling to get out that firing of Inspector David Johnstone Jr. was solely the city manager's doing," Mayor Joseph Verducci told the press Monday night.

"This action was taken on unanimous vote of the city council," the mayor said.

Councilman Sanford Vickers agreed, stating that, "We should repudiate these stories to the effect that Stites is a 'czar'."

"Something like this is too important not to take to the council," the manager volunteered. He said information from the district attorney was also "an important factor in the case."

Verducci also brought up the bookmaking situation Monday, asking Stites if investigation was continuing. The manager said that Police Chief Roland Petrocchi was still carrying on investigation, but had found no new evidence of the illegal activity.

"It's about time for them to try to move in again," Stites observed. "But with this hearing pending they might be discouraged."

Razor-Wielding Youth Robs Phone Operator

A local telephone operator was robbed of her wallet Sunday night by a teen-age youth who threatened her with a straight-edge razor.

Mrs. Helen Kersey, 960 Hanover street, told police that she had just gotten off the bus at Brunswick and Templeton streets when the boy approached her.

"All I want is your purse, lady," she reported him as saying.

Mrs. Kersey handed over her wallet which contained $18 and numerous identification cards.

She described the boy as extremely light complexioned, about 15 or 16 years old, and wearing a brown leather jacket.

Safety News

Since excessive speed is a problem throughout the country, all states have enacted legislation to cope with it. The regulations vary with locality, but the traffic laws of all states include the basic rule that motorists must drive at speeds that are reasonable and safe under prevailing conditions. However, many motorists show little respect for such laws, and as a result they often get into trouble. Driving at speeds too fast for conditions is frequently a factor in traffic accidents.

Nearly three out of 10 drivers in fatal traffic accidents during 1953 were violating a speed law. Fifteen percent were exceeding stated speed limits, and 14 percent were exceeding safe speeds although traveling at less than the stated speed limits or on roads where no stated limits exist.

Three types of regulations governing maximum speed are in use at the present time. A driver should be informed as to the type used in his locality, and should make it his business to find out what regulations are in force in any area he intends to visit. An explanation of the various types of maximum speed regulations is given.

1. ABSOLUTE SPEED LIMIT. (a) A numerical value is stated. (b) Speed in excess of this value is always a violation. (c) The limit may or may not be posted.

2. PRIMA FACIE SPEED LIMIT. (a) A numerical value is stated. (b) Speed in excess of this value is presumed to be a violation, but the driver is given an opportunity to prove that his speed was safe for conditions. (c) The limit may or may not be posted.

3. REASONABLE AND PRUDENT SPEED LIMIT. (a) No numerical value is stated. (b) Speed must always be adjusted to conditions. (c) This basic rule is contained in the law of every state. Where one of the numerical limits is in effect, the reasonable and prudent supplements it.

UNIFORM VEHICLE CODE. A constant effort is being made to bring about uniformity in traffic laws. Many states have revised their traffic legislation to conform with the uniform vehicle code, and conformity with this code is recommended to improve traffic legislation.

In the Simson African Hall at the California Academy of Sciences in San Francisco's Golden Gate Park, habitat groups contain more than a score of rapidly vanishing species of African mammals.

almost one-third of those interviewed, including both areas, would like to see the name changed, but of this total two-thirds of those favoring the name change were from Westlake subdivision.

Total proportion of those with no opinion was approximately 20 percent, while those definitely against altering the name amounted to nearly 50 percent.

Village Notes

By Gwin Mitchell

Wife Gerrie and the three younger members of the family consider Clarence Johnson the pride of 87th street, and well they might. He just passed the 1955 State Bar exam, proving that far-into-the-night studying pays off, after all!

Something else in the line of special accomplishments was the fine catch of abalone that Mac McElroy, Ed Witala, Ray Brat and Sam Cheskey brought back from their fishing trip up near Jenner. The proof of abalone is in the eating, and all four families dined well!

Betty Bullen and Marion Olson joined forces down Village Lane way and gave Louise Cloonan a baby shower—only it wasn't really, being given after the baby had arrived, and with all the presents for Louise, instead of for the newest young Cloonan. Louise Sisk, Gloria Silva, Ann Staley, Dorothy Hazen, Roth Scovel, Velma Chelone, Rosemary McVicar, Helen Gahn, Shirley Pappas, Pinkie Herald and Terry Fontana all came like the Greeks—bringing gifts.

Dot and Al Bolander sat comfortably on their Washington Street front porch and watched friends and neighbors trekking by to places here and there on the Memorial Day weekend. They'd already done their bit of traveling when Dot joined Al on a business trip to Ukiah some days before. They enjoyed a visit with some of Broadmoorites, the Barton McFarlanes, and had a peaceful day (the children stayed home!).

The 87th Street Sewing Circle is now in its 6th year, with the members meeting every two weeks for lunch, et al. Latest hostess was Zoe Andrade, with Mary Hess, Irene Hess, Jean Brugge, Stella Magoon and Dagny Golladay on her guest list.

There's a mighty happy boy riding a new bicycle up and down Maddux these days, having gotten said bicycle for his sixth birthday. Clifford Box is the young man in question, and he invited Michael Corso, Jack and Donny Mitchell, Ricky Centanni and Eddie Box to go down to San Bruno Park for an outdoor lunch party. Vern and Jean Box went along to superintend the hot dog roast!

Speaking of bicycles, there are two unclaimed ones up at the Broadmoor Police Station—one almost new. And Jimmy Marconi is wondering where his wandering bike is. If anyone sees a lonesome red 24-inch boy's bicycle around, give Jim a call. It might be his.

Dick and Harriet Buhman had guests at their corner of 90th street when Dick's brother Waldo and wife Doris stopped by on their vacation trip to Atascadero and Reno from their home in Portland, Oregon. The two families had about a week to share some good times together.

Shades of future years! Complete with a feminine cheering section and pom-poms, the boys in Mrs. Ballou's 5th grade galloped to victory over Mrs. Fisher's 5th grade team in a game of softball. Winning team's colors were red and white, we hear!

Sweetwood's Linda Long had a very special 9th birthday luncheon, with cousin Carolyn Monks, Dianne Hagerman, Diane Gold, Mary Woodside, Mary Richardson, Susan McKinley, Judy Sutter and Linda Nissen as guests. After lunch, everybody adjourned to Playland, where they had a gay and busy afternoon.

Stork news of the week came in duplicate, with twin girls Stefanie Ann and Tonnette Lee the first arrivals for Tony and Eola Alioto. All the Aliotos are staying with Eola's parents, the Charles Hererras, on Beechwood until their own home in Linda Mar is completed, and the girls are running things to suit themselves!

In addition to having husband Donald arrive home from a Denver business trip, Kathryn Hurst had more family arrivals when her sister Hazel, with husband Emmet Young and daughter Donna, stopped over at the Hurst household on Gilman for a week. The Youngs were en route from Hawaii to New York where Emmet, a captain in the army, will be stationed next.

Ingrid Giesecke had a double birthday celebration, with cupcakes and colcade, for her classmates at school, and a party at her home on Stewart for Brownie Troop 222, of which she is a member. The occasion was Year No. 8 in Ingrid's young life.

With a Memorial Day weekend at their disposal, many of the villagers took off for a couple of days away from the usual routine. Going along with the general exodus were the Ed Olsens of Village Lane, who took Tommy and Jeanie off on a fishing spree at a trout farm.

Louvaire Drive departed en masse, with Janet and Pete Rizzo and children going north to Eureka to visit Janet's mother, Mrs. Woodcock, and the Gantert tribe heading for Grass Valley. The latter were joined by the Jack Croftons, and what with 10 children between the two families, things were BUSY! Swimming and trout fishing were the main interests.

The Ray Lichtenbergs went camping in San Mateo Memorial Park for a restful couple of days in company with Corinne and Mayo Bryce, Ramey and Beth Lichtenberg and David and Mark Bryce had a fine time playing in the creek!

Sam and Cleo Cheskey and son Tommy went down to Paso Robles where they visited three families of Cleo's relatives, exchanging news and enjoying each other's company.

Al and Carol Courtney took off for Placerville, taking Eileen Winter with them. Young ladies Karen Courtney and Stephanie Winter had a wonderful time together, fishing and swimming.

Bill and Marion Spry (87th street), Jack and Jeanette Cowden (Sweetwood), and Jack and Virginia Parker (Stewart) joined forces and went up Ft. Bragg way, where they camped in the State park at Russian Gulch. In spite of some cold weather, young Bruce and Billy Spry, Gary Cowden and Scott, Webb and Stephen Parker—and their parents—enjoyed themselves, particularly when it came to salmon fishing in the ocean. They caught two!

Some of our families even went to Yosemite. Ray and Helen Kolb piled sons Mike and Bobby into the family car, gathered up Mike's friend and classmate, Bryce Stockslager, and left Ellis street for the place of firefalls, bears, cold night weather and Indian smoke signals. Rally and Jim Hirschberg, with Paula and Judy, and Frances and Gene Auer, with Lynn and Roger, went thataway, too. Roger and Paula, used to the Maddux-87th Street area, each had a turn getting lost. There were so many roads and camps that looked alike and so many people there, that getting lost was easy!

Thornhill's Harriet and Bob Ellis took their family for a quiet trip up through the Redwood Highway, staying in Ukiah, and then came back home to get ready for daughter Diane's 6th birthday party. Diane shared her party with Cindy Williams, who used to live on Thornhill's, and now is in Redwood City, and they had a hot dog roast on Cindy's patio. Other Broadmoor girls who went down for the fun were Missy Coulter, Linda Cowan, Bonnie Rohr and Roy and Rick Diedrickson.

Of course, the Foothill tribe was up and doing over the weekend! Bob and Vivian Leech and Vic and Mabs Guz were initiated into the Great Art of Camping, with Del and Maurine Guymon, Ruth and Trevor Jones, Bill and Reba Nye, Stan and Judy Wilson, Lorraine and Ed Lee, and Barbara and Johnny Bodmer all going along as teachers and helpers. There were quite a few children along as well, and the whole group descended upon Portola Park, where the adults did some folk-dancing and the young ones played in and along the usual creek.

Miss Winifred Senn didn't go anywhere That Weekend. Instead, she had a guest from Hollywood visiting her at her new home on Sweetwood—Mrs. Pat Kew. Pat was Winifred's roommate on the Lurline coming back from Honolulu in 1949, and they have been friends ever since, with several visits and a busy correspondence between them.

Historical Museum Receives Second In Series Of Dioramas

The County Historical Museum at the Baldwin Campus of the College of San Mateo has received the second of its series of dioramas. This one depicts in interesting and colorful manner Tripp's Store at Woodside, the 1850 logging center of San Mateo County's earliest industry.

The earliest lumber for the building of San Francisco in the Gold Rush Days was sawed in most primitive manner. Logs were rolled across a long pit. One man worked in the pit, and one man on top of the log pushing and pulling long saws before any steam engines were brought to Woodside.

After the sawmills moved in, the focal point of the industry in San Mateo County was the General Store established by Dr. R. O. Tripp at the foot of the Kings Mountain Road in Woodside.

This diorama showing the "Woodside Store" and oxen teams bringing in the lumber, with all details in original form, was a gift to the Historical association by members of the Keyston Family of

CAR KNOCKS DOWN JUNIPERO SERRA ELECTRIC SIGNAL

The automatic signal on the Junipero Serra-Alemany boulevard center island was knocked down Saturday night, stalling traffic for three hours, when hit by a car driven by an 18-year-old San Francisco youth.

It was estimated today by Ralph Kinsey, state division of highways assistant district engineer, that damage amounted to about $500. Kinsey said that Frank J. Ortiz, 2516 Lake street, San Francisco, driver of the car, will be billed for the damage.

Ortiz, who was driving north, was cited by local police for speeding and going through an automatic signal. He told officers that he hurried to make the yellow signal and lost control of the car, which hurdled the island and travelled another 40 feet down the island before coming to a stop.

Traffic was blocked for three hours when the signal, which continued operating, lay across the southbound lane of traffic.

Ortiz's passenger, William Schumacher, 18, of 1754 31st avenue, San Francisco, suffered a concussion, cuts and bruises when his head struck the windshield. He was released from Junipero Serra hospital Monday, according to attendants.

HEAVY AGENDA TOMORROW FOR BPOA MEETING

The annexation-incorporation issue, transportation, and a resolution to create a non-profit corporation to administer the new gymnasium top the agenda for tomorrow (Thursday) night's adjourned meeting of the Broadmoor Property Owners association.

The resolution, moved by Director James McKay at the May 12 annual meeting, would create a corporation to run the $18,000 recreation building now out for bid, thus making the group eligible for United Crusade funds to finance the youth program.

New directors, headed by President Jack Baker, will preside at their first regular meeting since their election last month.

Also on tomorrow's order of business is selection of a $100 a month bookkeeper-administrator who will set up books and tend to administrative affairs of the association in absence of the directors.

New directors to be seated tomorrow include: Baker, Howard Richardson, McKay, Ed Lee, Thomas Jenkins, Bucky Zweig, Others are Leroy Krueger, Ross Hilton and Vince Cauchi.

Tomorrow's meeting begins at 8 p.m. at the Broadmoor community center. All residents of Broadmoor are urged by Baker to attend.

WESTMOOR HIGH school site appeared quiet Monday when this photo was snapped, but contractors were scheduled to move in equipment this week for rough grading. R. A. Farrish Co. received contract for grading May 9, with bid of $75,000. Contract was signed May 23 and board of trustees had expected work to be underway by this time. Mario Clapp, architect, said there was no delay, however, pointing out that the contractor merely had his equipment tied up on another job. Deadline for completing grading is July 27, after which the school board will probably advertise for bids on construction of buildings for the $2,000,000 school plant. RECORD photo

Give, Don't Grab Right-of-Way, Motorists Are Told

SACRAMENTO — Give, don't grab, the right-of-way.

Right-of-way grabbers caused one of every seven traffic accidents investigated by the California Highway Patrol during 1954 according to a statement released from Patrol headquarters today by Commissioner B.R. Caldwell.

"The key to all right-of-way disputes is the word 'yield,' Caldwell pointed out in commenting on the high percentage of collisions caused by failure to surrender right-of-way.

"The law always indicates which motorist must yield the right-of-way, allowing a driver to proceed ahead of another only after the other driver has yielded.

"Many drivers, either deliberately or because they are misinformed, assume that the right-of-way is granted to them legally and seem willing to defend it to the death if necessary. Sadly, death often occurs in these cases," the Commissioner said.

Caldwell explained that right-of-way violations present serious problems for enforcement officers and the best approach is for motorists to yield voluntarily whenever the possibility of conflict arises.

"Our officers have been instructed to remain especially alert for right-of-way violations in order to reduce the large number of right-of-way accidents," he cautioned.

Sproule-Hamann Give Vows

The newlyweds are now making their home in Burlingame, following their honeymoon at Lake Tahoe.

The bride recited her vows in a gown fashioned of white embroidered organdie with full skirt and fitted bodice. She wore a coronet with two rows of seed pearls and a shoulder-length veil of bridal illusion. Her bouquet was a cascade of white roses and Bouvardia.

Maid of honor was Beverly Bendelini and the bridesmaids were Marcis Hatchel, Louann Baudrand, Marjorie Duncan and Margaret Koppel. They wore gowns of rainbow-color pastel tulle and carried contrasting colored bouquets of roses and carnations. Donna Tuvera was the flower girl and carried a nosegay of forget-me-nots and roses.

A garden reception followed at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. Vidar Waller, 1332 DeSoto avenue, Burlingame.

The bride is the daughter of J. Edward Sproule, of Glenn Ellen, who gave her in marriage, and of Mrs. Andrew Lund, of Daly City. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hamann, of Sharp Park, formerly of Broadmoor Village.

At the marriage ceremony the bride's mother wore French blue antique taffeta with navy blue accessories and the groom's mother wore light grey satin with pink accessories.

YOU NEVER DROVE A CAR? DO YOU KNOW YOU CAN'T STOP ON A DIME?

You may not realize that a driver can't stop suddenly if you never have driven a car. But the cold facts are these. It takes a car going 25 miles an hour at least 70 feet to stop. Never try to beat a car by running. The car is travelling many times as fast as you can run. So take care that no cars are approaching when you cross the street. They can't stop on a dime!

Silvestri, Linhares, 146 Each, Qualify for Open

Two Daly City amateur contenders, bocce ball empresario Bob Silvestri and cop Art Linhares, each squeaked among the qualifiers from the United States Open Golf championships this week with two-day totals of 146.

Silvestri, former state amateur champion, opened Monday with a 74 at San Francisco club, and chopped two off for a 72 next day at Lake Merced.

Linhares went just the opposite route, getting a 72 Monday at San Francisco and winding up with a 74 at Merced.

Lowest qualifier was Marvin "Bud" Ward, with a 136 on rounds of 69 and 67. Linhares and Silvestri just made it into the select group, as one more stroke apiece would have forced them into a sudden-death playoff which was held in the 147 bracket.

As it was Byron Nelson, Vern Callison, George Bruno and Jim Wilbert, all with 147s, had to battle it out for three spots necessary to fill the 20-man field, with Wilbert first to fall off the pace.

Bob Moore, former Lake Merced pro, was second low medalist with 69-72 for a 141.

John Geertsen, San Francisco club pro who lives at 1227 Nimitz drive, Broadmoor, had a bad day on his own course as he shot a 77 the first day, coming back strong at Merced on Tuesday with a 73, for a 150 total, three strokes away from a chance to qualify.

Stites Says City Needs Revenue

"We won't have enough income to handle all the budget needs for 1955-56 unless we find other sources of revenue," City Manager Howard Stites told the city council Monday night.

Stites told the council that this appeared obvious, although pointing out that work on the budget is only about 25 per cent completed.

He told councilmen he thought he could get the budget prepared for their consideration by the end of this weekend and would meet with them next Monday.

The manager said the budget would require "at least" 12 hours of solid work by him and councilmen.

Don't argue with this baby!

All Chevrolet's competitors and most of the high-priced cars tried it recently in official NASCAR* trials—and took a licking!

Meet the champ! The new Chevrolet "Turbo-Fire V8"—the most modern V8 on the road today. Here's what happened—

Daytona Beach, N. C. NASCAR Acceleration Tests Over Measured Mile From Standing Start. Chevrolet captured the 4 top positions in its class! 8 of the first 11! And on a time basis Chevrolet beat every high-priced car, too—but one! But wait!—this is just the beginning!

Daytona Beach, N. C. NASCAR Straightaway Running. Open to cars delivered in Florida for $2,500 or less. Chevrolet captured the first two places, 7 out of the first 11 places!

Daytona Beach, N. C. NASCAR 2-Way Straightaway Running Over Measured Mile. Open to cars from 250 to 299 cu. in. displacement. Chevrolet captured 3 of the first 5 places!

Columbia, S. C. NASCAR 100-Mile Race on half-mile track. Very tight turns. Chevrolet finished first!

Fayetteville, N. C. NASCAR Late Model Event. Chevrolet again finished first. Because of even tighter turns the driver chose to run the entire 150 laps in second gear! Yet no overheating or pit stops!

These facts you can't laugh off. Sales leader. Road leader. A crowning achievement of Chevrolet and General Motors. Try a Chevrolet... and live in a land of going-away where you win all the arguments! Soon, maybe?
